

COVID-19 SAFETY & HEALTH PROGRAM: SPECIFIC INDUSTRIES

What does "Specific Industries" mean?

COVID-19 is spread mainly from person-to-person by people who are in close proximity (within about 6 feet) to others. With that fact in mind, Federal and State agencies have developed guidelines and Industry Groups have accumulated best practices to assist employers in preparing for a return to work.

The following list of guidelines and best practices covers many of the industries that operate in Hawai'i. This list is not exhaustive; it contains information we were able to locate as of May 20, 2020. We will alert you as we find guidelines and best practices for other industries.

Industries highlighted in orange font are listed on the State's Economic & Community Recovery Navigator website. You can find financial and other business-related information and resources for your industry on that website.

Links with an asterisk (*) have been formally retracted by the White House or respective agency, but will direct to still-active pages with useful information.

The following list aggregates guidelines provided by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA), the Hawai'i Department of Health (HDOH), and the Hawai'i Economic & Community Recovery Navigator. The list is not legal or medical advice. Check with your legal counsel before finalizing your procedures. Note the guidelines and best practices frequently change so you will need to update on a regular basis.
